(1) Walter & Deborah Murch

E-mail from Dana P. Murch author of From Water to War, A Murch Family History published 2017

Hi, Rich.

I know the first five generations of your wife's Murch ancestry.

1. Walter Murch married (1) Deborah (Cornish?), (2) Rebecca Garland (no children).

2. John Murch married (1) Hannah Kent, (2) Elizabeth Emery (no children).

3. John Murch married (1) Elizabeth (Day) Ricker, (2) Charity Cook.

4. Joseph Murch [son through (1) above] married Susannah Joy.

5. Nathaniel Joy Murch married Mary B. Fullerton.

In terms of this ancestry, my book covers only the first two generations, including the ancestry of all spouses, and names all the children of the third generation. (At the second generation, my line goes through John Murch's brother William and continues from there.)

I had 100 copies of my book printed, and they have all found a home. I have donated copies to a number of libraries, however, so if you tell me where you live, I can tell you where the nearest copy is to you.

And beyond what is in the book, I think I know the ancestry of Elizabeth (Day) Ricker. Let me know if you are interested in that, and I will look to see what I have.

And for more information on the families of John Murch (Jr) and his son Joseph Murch, see Maine Families in 1790, volume 9, pages 335-340 and 343-348.

Hi, Rich. Alas, the closest copy of my book to you is at the Library of Congress.

The "Murch Family of Trenton" is not completely accurate. The author, Al Banfield, is an acquaintance of mine (his wife Mary is a Murch descendant), and he hasn't updated his paper to reflect the findings in my book.

In brief: Walter Murch, born about 1681, was a fisherman who was in York, ME by 22 Oct 1714 when he witnessed several deeds. He and his wife Deborah (maiden name unproven) had four children: William, born about 1703, John, born about 1705, Deborah, born about 1707, and Walter, born about 1709. Immigrants Walter and Deborah may be the Walter Murch and Deborah Cornish who were married in Wembury in Devon on the southwest coast of England on 3 Dec 1700, but this has not been proven. It is not known where any of the four children were born.

The entire family (including the spouses and offspring of married children William, John, and Deborah) all moved to Biddeford, ME in 1730, where father and sons were all fisherman, as had been in case in York. Son Walter married at Biddeford, but had no known children. [Note: Many online family trees have a line that goes from Walter to son Walter to grandson Walter, but there is no historical evidence to support this.]

Deborah, wife of immigrant Walter Murch, died sometime between 1730 and 1732. Her husband died sometime between 1750 and 1753.

I hope this helps.

Murch research from YHS in York, Maine

Hi Everybody,
I received the following Murch research from Virginia S. Spiller of the Old York Historical Society in York, Maine:

1. Early residents of York, Maine came from Scituate, Newbury, Newburyport, and Ipswich in Mass. The earliest settlers in York, Maine, she said, had come from the Plymouth Colony and the Boston area.

2. Walter Murch received a grant of 20 acres clear on Mar. 8, 1715. He received a grant of 10 acres of swamp clear on Mar. 13, 1715. (where the recorder could find it clear of all former grants.). (Virginia Spiller thinks that Walter Murch evidently came to York ca. 1714, which was the third migration to York.).

4. From York County, Maine Wills: John Murch of Biddeford, Maine, had a will proved on Jan. 3, 1764.

7. There was a land transaction where Walter Murch, John Phillips, William Murch, and John Murch, all of York within the province of Massachusetts Bay in New England, all fisherman, sold land to William Pepperrell of Kittery. Walter and John signed with their marke.
They had originally purchased the land from William Pepperrell, who had originally purchased it from Edward Baile and Henry Lyon. The land was in the town of York, lying near the lower Ferry there, and contained houses and barns and fences. The transaction was recorded Jan. 4, 1725. But in the body of the land transaction, it stated that this agreement took place actually on Dec. 24, 1723.
The land transaction stated that on Dec. 23, 1723, the Murches and Mr. Phillips purchased the land above from William Pepperrell. And then on Dec. 24, 1723, William Pepperrell bought that same land back from them. And then, all of this was recorded on Jan. 4, 1725. That is my understanding of the situation, reading from the land transactions involved.

8. There was a land transaction where William Pepperrell of Kittery sold land to Walter Murch, William Murch, John Murch, and John Phillips the tract of land that he had originally purchased from Henry Lyons and Edward Bale, lying in the town of York, near the lower Ferry there, containing houses, barns, fences, etc.
Walter Murch was to have the Island where he was presently living with the Houses and Stage. All of the land that lay over and against Walter's property was to be divided among the remaining 3 buyers. Toward the end of the transaction, Pepperrell stated that he was signing this transaction on Dec. 23, 1723. It appears to have been recorded on Jan. 4, 1725.

9. Walter Murch: married Deborah (maiden name unknown) and he was in the town of York to be on the Grand Jury in 1715. He was a fisherman. Their children were:

a. Deborah Murch: m. 1725 John Phillips, resident of York.
b. William Murch: m. 1726 Tabitha Young, d/o Matthews(?).
c. John Murch: m. 1727 Hannah Kent. (The Kent's were from Newbury and Ipswich in MA.).

(My Note: So it appears to me that the above 2 land transactions involved Walter Murch and his 2 sons, William Murch and John Murch, as well as his son-in-law, John Phillips.).

11. William Murch2: s/o Walter Murch1. He married Tabitha Young in 1726, d/o Matthews (?). A Tabitha was admitted to Biddeford Church between 1730 and 1742. Their children were:

a. Joanna Murch: b. 1726.
b. Tabitha Murch: b. 1725 (?)..
c. John Murch: b. 1730; m. 1752 in Biddeford to Ann Dean.
(The above 3 children were born in York).

d. Molly Murch: bapt. 1743 in Biddeford; m. 1762 Joseph Ellwell, Jr. in Biddeford, but both were of Pepperellboro.
e. Daniel Murch: bapt. 1747.
f. William Murch: bapt. 1747; m. 1765 Thankful Relief Pendexter.
(The above 3 children were born in Biddeford).

12. John Murch2: s/o Walter Murch1. He married Hannah Kent in 1727 in York. He was in Biddeford by 1728 when he bought land from Henry Donnell of York on the Saco River. Their children were:

a. Deborah Murch (?): m. 1747 in Biddeford to Benjamin Gooch.
b. Hannah Murch (?): m. 1752 in Biddeford to John Donnell.
c. Sarah Murch: b. 1744; prob. m. 1765 to Andrew Smith.
d. James Murch: b. 1746.
(The Donnell's were in York in the 1650's.).

That's it! That's what the Old York Historical Society in Maine sent to me. I am gathering that Virginia Spiller understands that there is only one Walter Murch, who migrated to York from MA. with his wife, Deborah (maiden name unknown), and his 2 sons who were old enough to own land with him, named John Murch and William Murch...and with a daughter named Deborah Murch, who married John Phillips, who also owned land with him. She thinks that this early ancestor, Walter Murch, might very well have a connection to a William Murch, whose will was administered in 1758 in Watertown, MA. The early settlers of York, she said, came from Scituate, Newbury, Newburyport, Ipswich, and Boston. She suggested searching for Walter Murch's origins in those towns as well.

ped himself in running, he rested his gun against the corner of a barn, and shot him within a few yards of the garrison. The leaps of this young man in his flight are said to have measured twelve feet.*

A few days after, 17 April, Mr. Nathaniel Eliot and his son who lived at the Falls, on the western side of the river, were attacked in a field a short distance below the present lower meetinghouse in Biddeford. Mr. William Murch dwelt at that time nearly where his grandson, Capt. Wm. Murch's house now stands, on the road leading to Kennebunk-port, which was not then laid out; there was, however, a private way from the Pool road to Murch's house. The Eliots were returning on this path with a load of hay, which they had obtained of Murch, when the Indians fired upon them and instantly killed the old man. The son, it is said, might have escaped, but exasperated by the fall of his father, he levelled and discharged his gun at the enemy, and then took to flight; he had not run far when another fire brought him to the ground. The bodies of the unfortunate persons were afterwards found on the spot where they fell, and decently buried. The savages proceeded to Murch's, and took him prisoner, near his barn, when they decamped without committing any further injury. They carried Mr. Murch to Canada by the route of the White Hills, whence he returned the following season. So bent on mischief were these Indians, that they cut out the tongues of Murch's cattle. A daughter of the late deacon Wingate relates, that Mr. Morrill, and his brother in law, Rev. S. Hill, were riding that day towards the lower part of the town, when they heard the guns and soon after discovered the Indians at a distance. Putting spurs to their horses, they barely escaped to the parsonage house, which was well secured against an assault. Our informant (who was then five or six years of age) recollects that her father came hastily into the house, exclaiming, There must be mischief done, for Parson Morrill is running his horse! The same day the deacon removed his family to the garrison of deacon Hill, which was protected by a high stockade with Pepperell alienated a very small part of his extensive interest in town; a few house lots, in the vicinity of the mill, comprised all of which the conveyances now appear. It is said, however, that he granted one hundred acres, or more, to John Phillips, who settled in town about 1730. The statement is, that Phillips was a native of the west of England, and a cousin to Sir William; and that on his coming over, the latter gave him a deed of the tract in question, but retained the instrument for safe keeping, which after the death of the baronet was either lost or destroyed. The story is not wholly improbable, the father of Sir William having emigrated in humble circumstances from the county of Cornwall, in the southwest of England, and the latter having permitted Phillips to improve the land from the time of his settlement in town. The lot is said to have extended in length from the present First Parish meetinghouse to Goose fair brook, on the lower side of the way, which divided Pepperell and Weare. Phillips lived in a small house that stood where Jona. King Esq. now resides, whose valuable estate is a part of the tract claimed by the heirs. Their title was allowed to a certain extent by the agent of government, appointed for the sale of confiscated lands.

The decease of Sir William Pepperell, Baronet, took place 6 July, 1759. The following schedule of his lands now lying in the town of Saco, amounting to about 5500 acres, was drawn up at that time: 1. The mill right, from Gray's land to Main street in breadth, and two miles back, supposed to contain 300 acres. 2. A lot consisting of 300 acres, 100 rods distant from the former. 3. The great lot, Pepperell's half, 1200 acres. 4. Deep brook lot, 700 acres. 5. Guinea lot, 600 acres. 6. Berry's lot, 350 acres. 7. Long Reach lot, 700 acres. 8. Old Orchard lot, 490 acres. 9. Interest in Foxwell's right, 870 acres. Sir William devised this valuable property to his grandson, William P. Sparhawk, a son of time of his removal. It is gratifying to notice this exception to the general indifference of our inhabitants to the cultivation of ornamental trees. The advice of Dumbiedikes to his son is oftener quoted than followed: "Jock, when ye hae naething else to do, ye may be aye sticking in a tree; it will be growing, Jock, when ye're sleeping."

John Murch of Biddeford came prior to 1771, and settled on the west side, on a farm afterwards owned by his son-in-law, Col. Jesse Dutton, who came here from Wallingford, Conn., about 1780, and died June 9, 1842, at the age of eighty years.

On the westerly end, William Murch, of Biddeford, sold his interest to his brother John, April 14, 1771, and Oct. 16, 1771.*

The Joy and Murch families run the mill for many years. About 1815 it came into the hands of Andrew Peters and Samuel Dutton, thence to George N. Black and from him to H. M. and B. Hall.

Obituary - The sudden death of Capt. J. C. MURCH of Trenton was announced through the American some weeks since. I first knew Capt. Murch about 35 years ago, and it was about that time that he embraced the Christian religion and united with the M.E. Church. He was a successful business man for some 35 years and accumulated a handsome property. He gave liberally to religious institutions and was very kind and benevolent to the poor.

Ellsworth, Apr. 26, ABIGAIL, wife of the Hon. J. R. REDMAN, age 75 years. For 54 years she was the discreet, trusted and devoted wife of her now bereaved and deeply afflicted husband. For a number of years she was a suffering invalid. For many years she was a professed disciple of Christ.

(b) THE MAINE FAMILIES.

(BIDDEFORD–ELLSWORTH.)

The numerous Joy families residing in the vicinity of Saco-Biddeford, Me., and Ellsworth, Me., trace their descent from one Benjamin Joy and wife Elizabeth, who were admitted to the church at Biddeford in 1741. Rebecca Joy, b. 1805, is authority for the family tradition that his father, the "first Benjamin," came from England to Boston before 1700 as master of the ship Good Hope, and kept a store and sail loft there before removing to "Casco Bay." There is record of a payment made to Benjamin Joy for "making nails, etc.," for repairs on the "Truck House" on Saco River in September, 1730. It has been suggested with some plausibility that this branch is an offshoot of the stock of Thomas,[1] either directly from a son or grandson in Massachusetts, or through a son of Ephraim,[2] of Berwick, Me. The following fragmentary record of these families has been pieced out from the article in the Maine Historical Magazine, Vol. IX (1894), pp. 88, 89, and from information privately furnished.

1. BENJAMIN[2] (——[1]), lived at Biddeford after 1741, when his wife was admitted to the church.

Married Elizabeth ——.

She was the mother of 13 children, most of whom are still living; had 92 great-grandchildren. Her remains were deposited beside those of her husband in this town; her husband died about 3 years ago at the ripe old age of 99 years. She went to Boston soon after her husband's death, to spend the remainder of her days with her daughter. During her last sickness she was surrounded by kind and affectionate children and friends, and had all of the consolation which religion and most tender affection could bestow. She experienced religion when she was 50 years of age, and her declining years were blessed by a calm and submissive spirit. Her temperate conduct and sweetness of disposition toward those around her and her kind hospitality and charity will long be remembered by those of her neighbors who still survive her. She was a kind mother and faithful in all her maternal duties. She has left behind her the savor of a good name which is better than precious ointments.

[illegible], died in Boston, Massachusetts, 15 April 1893, buried in Murch/Holt Cemetery, Ellsworth.[56] She married there 17 February 1823 NATHANIEL JOY "NAT" MURCH,[57] born Maine 7 August 1802, died in Ellsworth 2 September 1878,[58] son of Joseph and Susanna (Joy) Murch. Mary Murch was the mother of 13 documented children, 9 of whom were buried with their parents in the Murch/Holt graduated second in his class (1892) and won Phi Beta Kappa, an honor that his son Robert would receive nearly thirty years later. His "rhetoricals" at Oberlin and years of listening to his father's preaching proved to be good training for public speaking. He won Yale's highest honor in oratory in his senior year—the DeForest Prize, another honor his son Robert would take as a Yale student. Hutchins returned to Oberlin in 1893 and spent the next two years at the Oberlin Theological Seminary, tutoring students in Greek to help finance this study.[15] Transferring to Union Theological Seminary in New York to prepare to enter the Presbyterian ministry, he finished in 1896. Something of an iconoclast, he did not believe in original sin, imputed guilt, or the absolute historicity of Genesis or Exodus. These were all signs that his theology was modernist rather than conservative.[16]

Like many of his liberal colleagues, Hutchins had accepted Darwinian evolutionary theory and the higher criticism of the German and American theologians of the period. His doctrinal positions were problematic to conservative members of the Brooklyn Presbytery, who called him back for questioning before they would agree to his ordination. In the end, they had no doubts as to his suitability as a practicing minister. According to one member of the group, he was good, frank, noble, and intelligent.[17] He was ordained in the summer of 1896. In August he married Anna Laura Murch, a native of Cleveland whom he had met at Oberlin. His father officiated at their wedding.

Anna Murch's family also provided models and standards for the next generation of Hutchins boys. Her grandfather Nathaniel J. Murch, a sailor, brick maker, and farmer, married Mary B. Fullerton, the first white female born in Ellsworth, Maine. Anna's father, Maynard Hale Murch (1827–1908), also was a sailor. On his first voyage, at the age of eleven, he sailed nearly around the world over the course of more than a year. He learned shipbuilding in Bath, Maine, and eventually moved west to Cleveland, Ohio. After his first wife died, he married Lucy M. Stephenson (1844–1920) in 1870. He and Lucy had three children. Anna Laura and Maynard Hale Murch, Jr., survived into adulthood. Maynard, Jr., became a prominent businessman in Cleveland. Maynard, Sr., continued to build and captain ships on Lake Erie. He was known as a man of "moral courage" and great faith, who never sailed without his Bible.[18]

Anna Murch attended Cleveland Public High School, passed her Latin examination in 1890, and spent the years from 1890 to 1894 enrolled at Oberlin College. Like Will Hutchins, she took a rigorous course of study, including mathematics, sciences, French, German, rhetoricals, English, Bible, Latin, psychology, and political economy. She graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in 1896 from Mount Holyoke College, otherwise known as Mary Lyon's "Puritan convent," which, in addition to her Oberlin experience, provided her with appropriate training to be a minister's wife.[19] A gentle, shy woman, most comfortable administering quietly to people's needs, she was Will Hutchins' devoted partner, serving alongside him wherever they lived.[20]

Their first parish was the Bedford Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn, New York, only a few blocks from Robert Grosvenor Hutchins' church. As they established their own family, Will Hutchins became a widely respected minister who, from 1896 to 1907, built an increasingly large and complicated organization on the corner of Dean and Nostrand streets. William Grosvenor Hutchins was born in 1898, Robert Maynard Hutchins was born in 1899, and Francis Stephenson Hutchins was born in 1902. While her husband created a parish responsive to the needs of their congregation and neighborhood, Anna taught her sons the simple courtesies they would need as good Christians and successful men. She read Dickens and other works to them and took them weekly to the public library.[21]

William and Robert could not help but be influenced by their father's leadership. In addition to the morning and evening family prayers and Sunday school, the boys attended church twice on Sundays, which included listening to their father's sermons.[22] Under his guidance, the congregation and Bible school grew. The church initiated a range of activities for children and adults that combined evangelical goals with social service. Will Hutchins' pastoral work reflected the Social Gospel preached by Washington Gladden and such proponents of the institutional church as William S. Rainsford at St. George's, an Episcopal church across the East River.[23]

Will Hutchins' sermons demonstrated his conviction about the functions of the Church in American urban society and were influenced by Gladden's Applied Christianity and the theological ideas of Henry Churchill King, who became president of Oberlin College in 1902.[24] Hutchins urged his congregation to ponder the importance of assuming responsibility for one's life and of helping others despite personal inconvenience. The Sunday school, he told them, was central to a Christian nurture that ultimately could improve society. He thought social conditions could be ameliorated if people worked together, especially if they were working for God.[25] It was the responsibility of citizens, he maintained, to stop political graft in city

THE LINE OF JOHN OF ELLSWORTH, MAINE

(ME - B)

There is much conflicting information about the origin of this line. The present descendants who still live in the area seem to have an organization and hold reunions but appear to have little factual information of the origin of the line.

FRANCIS B. (FRANK) b. 1864 (see 511), made an affidavit 10 Sep 1932 saying that JOHN (ca 1763) came from the Hebrides Islands in 1768 and brought the original coat of arms.

Some believe JOHN to have been born in Boston on 15 May 1763 and to have been one of the Continentals who fought at Bunker Hill.

I have not been able to find any record of such a birth in Boston, Mass., and while a JOHN born in 1763 could have fought in the revolution, it is rather doubtful that he participated in the battle of Bunker Hill for he would have been only 12 years old at the time.

Some also say that he was the son of WILLIAM and Mary, however, the WILLIAM and Mary which they (apparently arbitrarily) select as his parents are from the line of HUMPHREY (PA-OH) who came from Ireland to Pa. in about 1723.

A careful investigation of this line reveals no reason to believe there is any connection between these two lines or that any of the early WILLIAMs came north to Massachusetts or Maine from Pennsylvania. Thus, pending some confirming information I must assume this 'theory' was a pure guess on the part of some early researcher.

Another researcher claims JOHN F. Fullerton (Fullarton) came from the Hebrides Island in 1768 (see above). The date 1768 set for this arrival may be in error. In some respects 1678 would seem more likely.

The date of birth assigned to JOHN (May 1763) is a logical one, even though it has not been verified. It was given in an early historical writeup. The date is in line with the dates of birth of his known children.

The best information seems to point to JOHN b. 13 Dec 1730 in Boston as the father of JOHN b. May 1768. (see MASS-A-13) pp 107.

00. JOHN b. 13 Dec 1730 prob. Boston, Mass. Baptised by Rev. Wm Cooper at Brattle St. Church in Boston m. 7 Oct 1756 in Boston, Mary Black. d. ca 1821. Will written 1818-1819 indicates children of JOHN of Ellsworth, Me. are his grandchildren. JOHN of Ellsworth, Me. b. 1763 had already died and therefore his children became the heirs of JOHN b. 1730. JOHN (1730) is the 1790 census head in Boston with one male (prob. son) listed in his household at that time. He is also the JOHN shown in the 1796 street directory of Boston. He was an innkeeper on Milk St. The inn probably the same as that run by his father and grandfather before him.

0, JOHN b. ca 13 May 1763 poss. Boston, Mass. d. ca 1820. m. Sara "Sally" Whittaker b. ca 1763 d. ca 1847. Married in July 1790. One story has it that JOHN was a surveyer who came to Maine with Col. Black in connection with the Bingham Purchase In any event he was also a farmer and lived in Ellsworth, Me. reportedly near the mouth of the Union River near "Fullerton's Point." Their children may not be listed in the correct chronological order. Several different sources give lists of the children of JOHN. Most lists contain a child "Nubby" but no list I have seen gives a daughter 'Abigail', yet Abigail is buried in the graveyard with this family. Her date of birth indicates her to be a possible child of JOHN.

An experienced researcher has suggested that some early researcher misread 'Nabby' for 'Nubby'. 'Nabby' was a common pet name for Abigail. This is probably correct and until disproved I will accept that assumption. Many of the family are buried in the Fullerton Cemetery at Oak Point. An interesting development was that the fourth son, WILLIAM W. had his place of birth listed as Nova Scotia by his son, Capt. EDWIN LANCASTER in the 1880 census.

2. HENRY b. 3 Feb 1792 Trenton, Me. d.

2A. Betsy b. 29 Jan 1794 Trenton, Me. d. Mar 1852 m. Benjamin Miliken

3. JOHN b. 8 Feb 1796 Trenton, Me. d. young.

Deaths

In this town, on Monday last, Miss Sarah, daughter of Nathaniel and Mary MURCH, age 21 years, 6 months. Miss Murch underwent a long and painful sickness which she endured with true Christian patience and resignation, and although called by death in the bloom and vigor of youth, she went down to the grave in the full faith of a Christian's hope for a glorious immortality beyond its narrow portals. She was much respected and beloved during her life, and although her death has caused an aching void among her numerous friends and relatives, they should still be thankful for the blessed assurance that what is their loss will prove to be immortal gain of the dear departed.

Pioneer Elk Dies Suddenly

Edwin A. Taylor, Exalted Ruler, Succumbs to Heart Failure in Restaurant.

Edwin A. Taylor, pioneer citizen of Minneapolis, and charter member of the local Elks' lodge, died suddenly last night while waiting for his dinner at Henry's restaurant, 712 Hennepin avenue. The coroner gave heart failure as the cause of death. The body was taken to the Warren Undertaking parlors. Services will be held by the Elks.

Mr. Taylor started the first all-night restaurant in Minneapolis over 28 years ago. His place of business was located on Washington avenue near Hennepin. Later he took a position in the University of Minnesota free dispensary where he was employed for more than 15 years. He resigned last September to accept a place with Sheriff Langum where he had been working until last night.

He was born in Orleans, Mass., July 18, 1842, and came to Minneapolis in 1883. During the past 15 years he could name every prominent athlete that played on the University of Minnesota teams and was a great favorite among the students and the members of the Elks. He was noted for his generosity and charitable work and well liked by all his acquaintances.

His wife and four children survive. Mrs. Taylor is now visiting with her daughter, Grace, at Boston, Mass. Charles is the only son living here; Fred is in Chicago and Harry in New York. All have been notified of his sudden death and are expected to arrive in Minneapolis in time to attend the services.

He was the exalted ruler of the Elks lodge during the year 1892 and was elected tyler March 25, 1908, which position he held until his death.

FRED H. TAYLOR

Funeral services for Fred H. Taylor, 66, 2315 Queen avenue N., will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at Welander-Quist mortuary, W. Broadway and Fremont avenue N. Burial in Crystal Lake cemetery.

Mr. Taylor was a member of Plymouth Masonic lodge, 160, AF-&AM, and Plymouth chapter, 19, Order of the Eastern Star.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Eleanor Vogel, Minneapolis; and a sister, Mrs. G. T. Wright, North Hollywood, Calif.

Old River Pilot, Shirley Holt Sr., Succumbs at Eliot

ELIOT — Capt. Shirley Henry Holt Sr., 75, a former resident of Kittery, died Tuesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Bryce of Eliot whom he was visiting.

A resident of Ellsworth and Trenton, Maine, for the past 22 years, he was born in Ellsworth Dec. 2, 1883, the son of the late Henry and Emma (Murch) Holt.

For more than 40 years he piloted all sorts of vessels up and down the harbor, including flat-bottomed barges carrying bricks from up-river brickyards, coal schooners and the Navy's big old battleship of the USS Texas, plor to World War II.

The day the Texas was brought upstream, with its crew of midshipman from Annapolis, a big crowd gathered on Pierce Island to watch the ship as it was navigated into the Yard.

More than one old-timer viewed the job as impossible but harbor-wise Holt brought the fighting lady into its shipyard berth with hardly a ripple.

Mr. Holt was the pilot in charge of tug operations that brought the sunken submarine USS Squalus up the harbor to the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard.

He was a member of the Royal Arcanum of Portsmouth and the Bayside Grange of Ellsworth.

Survivors also include his wife, Mrs. Martha (Winters) Holt; two sons, Norman and Shirley H. Holt Jr., both of Kittery; three other daughters, Mrs. Vanita Spinney of Eliot, Mrs. Emilyn Enos of North Hampton and Mrs. Beatrice Regan of Portsmouth; a brother, Will Holt of Ellsworth; three sisters, Mrs. Carrie Langley of Trenton, Mrs. Essie Collins of Bar Harbor and Mrs. Hazel Callin of Portland; 23 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Captain M. H. Murch died at the Lakewood hospital, Cleveland, Wednesday last and was interred yesterday.

From Lake Superior.

The steamer Northern Light, Capt. Murch, arrived from Lake Superior at 2 o'clock P. M. Wednesday. She brought down two hundred and forty tons of copper and two hundred and five tons of iron ore, seven hundred packages of fish, and about ten tons of miscellaneous freight. She also had one hundred passengers, one of whom handed us the following, which explains itself:

ON BOARD STEAMER NORTHERN LIGHT,
ST. CLAIR RIVER, August 4, 1868.

At an informal meeting of the passengers who had enjoyed a trip to Lake Superior on this favorite boat, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, We, the undersigned, passengers on board the steamer Northern Light, returning from a very pleasant trip to the many points of interest and instruction of Lake Superior and intermediate ports; and,

WHEREAS, We have received every attention for comfort and safety from Captain Murch and his officers; who have spared no pains to increase the pleasure and welfare of those on board; therefore,

Resolved, That we consider the Northern Light one of the staunchest and safest of her kind and her officers are all thoroughly qualified for their positions, which they fill to the satisfaction and comfort of their passengers.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be handed to the publishers of the Detroit and Cleveland papers, with a request that they publish them.

Resolved, That we return our sincere thanks to Captain Murch, his officers and his crew, for their untiring care and attention during the ten days that we have passed on board the "Light."

Resolved, That we heartily recommend to our friends who contemplate a trip to the cool and bracing localities and interesting regions of Lake Superior, to take passage on the Northern Light. Its officers are prudent, kind and sociable; the table is unexcelled by any model hotel, and the steward, clerk and crew competent and attentive to the wants of their passengers.

Chairman—W. W. WILLIAMS, New York.
Secretary—M. J. LAWRENCE, Cleveland.

Signed—George Morehouse and wife, Detroit; W. E. Gentle and wife, Detroit; D. Seeley and wife, Detroit; S. Hymrn and family, Cleveland; J. O. Mason and wife, Cleveland; H. H. Hadley and wife, Cincinnati; Mrs. C. C. Hadley, Sandusky, and ninety others.

Cautionary signals are ordered up at all stations on Lakes Erie, Huron and Michigan.

Vessel and steamboat men are actively engaged all along the docks putting their craft in shape and are in the best of spirits over the prospects of getting out at an early day.

News has been received at this port of the dangerous illness at Buffalo of Captain Edward Durant, who commanded the schooner R. N. Rice last season. Captain Durant's ailment is a cancerous tumor.

Captain M. H. Murch, one of the best known lake captains and for the past seven seasons commander of the steamer Winslow, has accepted a similar position on the steam barge Iron Age.

Dr. William J. Hutchins

Former Berea President Dies

Long Illness Fatal To W. J. Hutchins

BEREA, Ky., Feb. 20 (Special) —Dr. William J. Hutchins, 86, president emeritus of Berea College, died at noon today at the Berea College Hospital where he had been a patient for several months.

Hutchins succeeded William G. Frost as Berea's president in 1920, retired in 1939 and was followed by his son, Dr. Francis S. Hutchins, who is now the college's president.

In 1940 Hutchins became an advisor to the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo. He retired from this post in 1953 and had lived in Berea since then.

Although his tenure as Berea's president was marked by the construction of many new campus buildings and the strengthening of the endowment fund, he was widely remembered as an inspiring leader and a dedicated educator.

When he came to Berea, the college had a rather divergent education program. With the help of the faculty and trustees he unified these segments to make the college a recognized institution for the education of students of the Appalachian South.

Hutchins was born in Brooklyn, N.Y., on July 5, 1871. He attended Oberlin Academy, Oberlin College and was graduated from Yale University in 1892. He was a student at Oberlin Theological Seminary in 1893-95 and was graduated from Union Theological Seminary in 1896.

He was ordained as a Presbyterian minister in 1896.

From 1896-1907 he was the pastor of the Bedford Church in Brooklyn, N.Y. In 1907 he became a professor of homiletics at the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology and remained there until coming to Berea in 1920.

He received honorary D.D. degrees from Oberlin and Yale, LL.D. degrees from Marietta and the Universities of Chicago and Kentucky and the L.H.D. degree from the University of Louisville.

Hutchins was the author of "The Preacher's Inspirations and Ideals" and "The Religious Experience of Israel." He also wrote a "Code of Morals" for which he received a $5,000 award from the Character Education Association.

His baccalaureate sermons made between 1921 and 1939 were printed in 1956 in a booklet entitled "I Never Lose Heart."

In 1930-31 he traveled in India as a member of the Commission on Higher Christian Education in India.

He was a member of the Berea Union Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Anna L. Hutchins; three sons, William G. Hutchins of the Asheville, N.C., School for Boys; Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, New York City, president of the Fund for the Republic, and Dr. Francis S. Hutchins, president of Berea, and several grandchildren.

A memorial service will be conducted at Union Church at 2 p.m. (CDT) Saturday by the Rev. T. D. Cowan and the Rev. Allen W. Hackett, pastor of the Pilgrim Congregational Church, St. Louis, Missouri.

The body was taken to the Britton Funeral Home.

Educator, Friend Of Hills, Dies

When William G. Frost, for many years president of Berea College, passed from the educational scene it was said that there would never be another like him, and that Berea College never would be the same without his influence and standing in the educational world. But as always seems the case, a successor with all the qualifications and virtues of the late Dr. Frost was found in Dr. William J. Hutchins, who took over as president of the mountain college in 1920 and made it an even greater institution.

A dedicated leader in the field of education, Dr. Hutchins did much to add to the national stature of Berea College during the 20 years that he served as its president. The college, located at a point where Blue Grass meets the Mountains, has sought out and provided educations for thousands of the youths of the hill lands of Kentucky who otherwise might not have had a college education. Leaders in many fields, in all the professions, are counted among the graduates of Berea, and its work is continuing under the able leadership of Dr. Francis S. Hutchins, son of the preceding president whose death is recorded this week.

Retirement from the arduous duties of president of a growing institution in 1939 did not lessen Dr. Hutchins' interest in education or in the people he sought to help. He served as advisor to the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis for some 13 years after relinquishing his duties as president of Berea, and in many ways contributed to the cause of educational progress. While his passing removes a leader of another age from the field, the name will continue in educational circles. Three sons, Dr. Francis Hutchins, Berea; Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, former president of the University of Chicago and presently head of the Fund for the Republic, and William G. Hutchins, of the Asheville, N. C., School for Boys, will carry on the family tradition.

Robert M. Hutchins

Hutchins, Reform Educator, Dies

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Robert Maynard Hutchins, a legendary American educator who headed the University of Chicago when only 30 and angered alumni by dropping football as an unnecessary frill, has died of a kidney ailment. He was 78.

Doctors said the controversial educator had a relapse about week ago after surgery in March for kidney trouble at the Santa Barbara Cottage Hospital. He died late Saturday.

A memorial service is scheduled Friday at the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions, which Hutchins founded here nearly 20 years ago. Another service is scheduled at the University of Chicago June 17.

HUTCHINS graduated magna cum laude from Yale Law School at age 26 and two years later was dean of the school. He was regarded as a boy wonder when named president of the University of Chicago at 30.

During his 22 years at Chicago, his controversial reforms drew widespread attention and left their mark on campuses across the nation.

Hutchins jolted alumni and students when he abolished football. He argued that "football, fraternities and fun were designed to make a college education palatable to those who shouldn't be there."

He also allowed students to enter the university after two years of high school, ended compulsory class attendance and granted degrees after two years to students who could pass a comprehensive test.

HE RESPONDED to widespread criticism by saying, "About all we can say of American education is that it's a colossal housing project designed to keep young people out of worse places until they can go to work."

He brought atomic bomb researchers to the campus during World War II, and the first controlled nuclear reaction was achieved Dec. 2, 1942, in a secret laboratory under the stands at the school's athletic field.

Francis S. Hutchins
Louise (Gilman) Hutchins

HUTCHINS, FRANCIS STEPHENSON. Francis Stephenson Hutchins, educator, was born on August 17, 1902, in Northfield, Massachusetts, the youngest son of William J. and Anna (Murch) Hutchins. Hutchins earned degrees from Oberlin College in Ohio (B.A. 1923) and Yale University (M.A. 1933). He taught in China as an Oberlin undergraduate and returned to China in 1925 as an instructor and representative of Yale-in-China's educational mission. Hutchins returned to the United States in 1939 to succeed his father as president of Berea College.

During his presidency (1939-67), Hutchins closed the college's secondary schools, strengthened the humanities curriculum, and further enlarged the endowment. Especially noteworthy was the admission once again of black students to Berea College after a 1950 modification of the DAY LAW, which had forced the school to segregate in 1904.

Hutchins married Louise Gilman (HUTCHINS) on February 22, 1934. They had four children: Anne, Francis, William Maynard, and Robert Lawrence. Hutchins died on November 28, 1988, and was buried in Berea. SHANNON H. WILSON

Louise (Gilman) Hutchins

Dr. Louise (Gilman) Hutchins was born in Changsha, Hunan Province, while her father was Bishop of China. A distinctive feature of her ancestry is simply its diversity and (almost) self-contradiction. This daughter of the Episcopalian prelate was descended from scores of Quakers in New York and New Hampshire.

Her grandmother, Mary Eddy Hubbard, was a schoolteacher in Nebraska Territory where the director of the school provided her with a gun in case of Indian attack. She and her husband were married in Fort McPherson by an Army chaplain.

Other ancestors were unmistakably urban and prosperous: an early mayor of New York City, shipping magnates, merchants, boat-builders, and immensely wealthy residents of Long Island. One of these residents was Louise's great-great-grandmother, Eliza Southgate Bowne, whose letters are collected in A Girl's Life Eighty Years Ago, (published in 1887). Historians study her correspondence for its revelations of social customs and attitudes of the era. Anne Bradstreet, one of the most famous poets of the Colonial period, was also an ancestor.

Although Louise Hutchins' ancestors were all Northerners, her paternal line displayed a clannishness usually ascribed to Southerners. The Gilmans were a cousin-marrying family for many generations, with literally dozens of matches between relatives. She was directly descended from the same immigrant ancestors, Edward Gilman and his wife, seven different ways.

Dr. Louise Gilman Hutchins (1911–1996) was president and board director for the Mountain Maternal Health League in Berea, Kentucky for 47 years.

Family and early life

Dr. Louise Gilman Hutchins was born February 2, 1911 to Episcopal missionaries in Changsha, Hunan Province, China. The family lived there until 1926, when they returned to the United States, moving to New Jersey. During her time in Changsha, China, Louise would meet Francis Hutchins and the two married in 1934.

In 1932, Hutchins graduated from Wellesley College and in 1936, earned her M.D. in pediatrics and obstetrics from Yale University. Following her graduation from Yale, Dr. Hutchins returned to China to work with her new husband, Francis, who had been engaged in aid work in the region since meeting Louise years earlier. In Changsha, she completed an internship in pediatrics at the Hunan Hospital. In 1939, Francis Hutchins was offered the presidency of Berea College and after initial reluctance, the couple left China for Kentucky.

Mountain Maternal Health League

In Berea, Louise Hutchins served as the only pediatrician in the community from 1939 to 1967. Soon after her arrival in the community, Hutchins became the board president and medical director for the Mountain Maternal Health League and continued in that role for 47 years. The Mountain Maternal Health League, established in 1936, served rural women in Estill, Harlan, Garrard, Jackson, Lincoln, Madison, Powell, Rockcastle, and Whitley counties. The League offered midwifery services to women in these communities by traveling on horseback to reach geographically isolated patients. Most of their work, however, involved providing contraception information in their clinic while providing refills on contraceptive supplies via mail. During this time, Kentucky law prohibited government officials from funding or disseminating birth control information.

In 1944, the Mountain Maternal Health League established a clinic in Berea Hospital and soon after, became affiliated with Planned Parenthood Federation of America. In 1967, Francis Hutchins retired from Berea College and the couple moved to Hong Kong for three years. During this time, Louise Hutchins completed a residency in gynecology while working with the city's Family Planning Association. The couple returned to Berea in 1970 and until her death at age 85 in 1996, Louise Hutchins continued to work to improve the health of women and children in Kentucky.

MURCH, MAYNARD HALE (3 Nov. 1874-28 Feb. 1966) founded the Maynard H. Murch Co. and was called the dean of area investment bankers. He was a conservationist, philanthropist and promoter of the natural sciences.

Born in Chardon, Ohio to Maynard Hale and Lucy (Stephenson), Murch received his A.B. from Western Reserve University in l898, then worked as a reporter for the Plain Dealer until 1903 when he entered the investment field as a bond salesman.

In 1911 he organized the Maynard H. Murch Co., an investment brokerage firm, and served as president and senior partner. In 1920 he transferred the investment part of the business to Maynard H. Murch & Co., a brokerage partnership, with the original firm continuing as a holding company. Murch is credited with putting together the company known as the Whirlpool Corp. In 1950 the investment company became Fulton, Reid & Co., incorporating in 1956 with Murch as a special partner.

Nature and conservationism interested Murch, resulting in a long association as a trustee of the Cleveland Zoo (he donated two Kodiak bears in 1946), Holden Arboretum, and the CLEVELAND MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY. Murch became a Museum trustee in 1938; president, 1949-1952; and life trustee in 1952. He helped provide funding for joint programs with Western Reserve University and Case Institute of Technology (see CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY). In 1960 the Museum honored him with the Harold T. Clark Medal. In 1956 he established the MURCH FOUNDATION to promote educational, cultural, and hospital programs.

Murch married Leah Daggett in 1905. They had two sons, Maynard Jr. and Boynton. Murch was Episcopalian, lived in Kirtland and is buried in LAKE VIEW CEMETERY.

MURCH FOUNDATION

The MURCH FOUNDATION was incorporated in 1956 by investment banker MAYNARD HALE MURCH. The foundation supports museums and cultural programs, secondary and HIGHER EDUCATION, and community recreation and hospitals, primarily in Ohio. The Murch Foundation grants only to pre-selected organizations (not individuals) and does not accept applications. In 1993, with assets of over $16.2 million, the foundation disbursed over $503,000 for 65 grants between $1,000 and $55,000. In 1993 Maynard H. Murch IV served as foundation president and treasurer. Other family members served as trustees.

Mr. Murch, a former director of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce and a trustee of the Holden Arboretum and of the Cleveland Zoological Society, was born in Chardon, Nov. 3, 1874. His father was a lake captain and shipbuilder here.

His first job was as a newspaper reporter. He worked for the old Cleveland Leader, which later was merged with The Plain Dealer. According to a story Mr. Murch liked to relate, he quit as reporter because he was refused a weekly salary increase of $2 to $14.

He quit his reporting job in 1903 to sell securities.

MR. MURCH founded the investment holding company bearing his name 13 years after he was graduated from Western Reserve University.

At his death, Mr. Murch was chairman of the board of directors of the company. A son, Boynton D., is president and treasurer.

In 1920, the investment part of the business was transferred to a partnership under the name of Maynard H. Murch & Co., which was succeeded in 1950 by Fulton, Reid & Co.

Mr. Murch had served a three-year term on the board of governors of the Investment Bankers Association of America.

HE WAS a trustee of Western Reserve University for many years and a member of its board of governors. The university honored him in 1960 with an honorary degree of doctor of humanities. His fraternity, Alpha Delta Phi, presented him with a national award in 1963 for outstanding services to education and business.

A lover of nature, Mr. Murch was a trustee of the Natural Science Museum and since 1938 had served for various periods as treasurer, president and chairman of the board. Mr. Murch established a fund at the museum to maintain educational projects for high school students.

The Cleveland Zoo was another of his interests and in 1946 he arranged for the purchase of two Kodiak bear cubs for the zoo. The two bears, Napoleon and Josephine, have long been among the main attractions at the zoo.

Mr. Murch maintained a large wooded estate and home at Kirtland, Lake County, and a summer home on Cranberry Isles on the Maine coast.

Surviving are his wife of 60 years, Leah; two sons, Boynton D. and Maynard H. Jr., and three grandsons.

Kittie Sharpe's Will.

On December 23, 1885, Kittie Sharpe, a well known character about town, died, leaving Harriett Ellis and Mary A. Harney, her only sisters, heirs at law. A will purporting to be the last testament of the deceased and bearing date December 22, 1885, was presented to the probate court and probated December 30, 1885. Letters of administration were granted to William F. Newcombe. By the terms of the will Eunice Murch, then Eunice Martin, and the two sisters of the deceased were named as devisees under the will. A petition was filed in the common pleas court Tuesday by the two sisters to have the will set aside on the ground that the testator was not of sound mind at the time the will was made and was mentally incapacitated from making a will. It is further claimed that the will was made through undue influence of N. M. Flick and was not otherwise executed by Kittie Sharpe. By the terms of the will Eunice Martin was left the bulk of the estate, which amounted to about $2,000, and one of the sisters was given a diamond pin and the other $50 in money.

TRAFFIC OFFICER LAST AUTO VICTIM

Patrolman, Off Duty, Fatally Injured in Crash With Street Car.

Patrolman Edward Murray, 38, of 9717 Dunlap Avenue S. E., on the police sick list since an accident Oct. 13, was fatally injured late yesterday when his automobile ran head-on into a street car on the Harvard-Denison bridge.

Murray's death was the 274th in 1929 traffic. Two hundred and thirty-seven were killed in 1928.

Murray was first injured Sept. 12, when he saved the life of an eight-year-old child who ran in front of an automobile at Fairchild Avenue and Stearns Road S. E. He spent several days at Mount Sinai Hospital following this accident and returned to duty, only to be severely crushed when three automobiles collided at E. 131st Street and Miles Avenue S. E., where he was directing traffic.

He had not returned to duty since that time, but was recovering and expected to be back on duty soon.

Yesterday he was driving west on the Harvard-Denison bridge, and in attempting to pass an automobile traveling in the same direction he hit the street car. He was taken to City Hospital, where his injuries caused his death last night.

Murray, who had been on the force nine years is survived by his widow, Ida.

Two other serious traffic injuries were reported last night. John Kilbane, 53, of 10332 Ignatius Avenue S. W., was in a critical condition at St. John's Hospital as a result of injuries suffered when he was hit by an automobile at Lorain Avenue and W. 104th Street. He has a possible skull fracture and three broken ribs.

John Pzezolk, 44, of 4131 E. 138th Street, was hit by an automobile in front of 5474 Broadway S. E.

WILD DRIVER KILLS MAN, RAMS HOUSE

Dashes Along Wrong Side of Boulevard, Wrecking Lighter Car.

Another Victim Near Death; Son of Man Who Owns Auto Missing.

An automobile crash in the darkness at Franklin boulevard N. W. and W. 50th street early yesterday took one life and may cost another.

It awoke occupants of a house into which one of the automobiles plunged, and darkness covered the identity of the driver and his companion as they fled and left two men lying on the pavement beside their overturned automobile.

Earl Murch, 29, of 3154 W. 110th street; Paul Hohman, 2077 W. 93d street, and two companions were returning home after an evening of bowling.

Their car was too light to withstand the shock when sideswiped by a larger automobile. A wheel came off. The smaller car overturned, throwing the four into the street.

Awakened by Crash.

The larger automobile, going east on Franklin while the other went west, climbed over a curb and crashed into the side of the brick home of Stanley W. Cobb, 4908 Franklin boulevard N. W.

Mr. Cobb, awakened by the crash, with Daniel Foley, an occupant of the house, ran out. They saw two men run from the automobile which rammed the house and saw four in the street beside the overturned car.

As they looked two of the men slowly dragged themselves up. Two did not. Their heads had struck the curb. They were Murch and Hohman.

Charles Seguin, 8104 St. Clair avenue N. E., a taxicab driver, pulled up by the men in the street. So did James Cullins, 7102 Lawn avenue N. W. They helped two bruised companions, one of whom was Frank Fox, 2023 W. 87th street, lift the men into their cars and hurried to Fairview Park hospital.

Murch, married, and father of a son, died soon after arrival. His skull had been fractured. Hohman's condition is critical. Their companions were not seriously injured.

While darkness hid the identity of the men who ran from the car which Seguin told police caused the accident by running on the wrong side of the street, police got the license number. It was traced to its owner, who said his son had been using the machine.

The son had not returned late last night to his home. When he does he will find police there waiting to take him to Central station for questioning.

Murch's death brought to 125 fatalities from traffic accidents in Cleveland this year, as compared with 126 for the corresponding period last year.

ASKS NOTICE OF VIOLENT DEATHS

Coroner Requests Hospitals to Heed Law and Report Suspicious Cases.

Coroner P. A. Jacobs, in a request sent all Cleveland hospitals yesterday, asks closer co-operation between hospital authorities and the coroner's office in the case of suspicious deaths.

"In the past it has been the practice of some hospitals to make out death certificates in the case of patients who have died from tab or bullet wounds and from suicide," said the coroner.

"This, of course, is a violation of state statutes, and I am warning hospital authorities continuance of the practice will result in prosecution."

Dr. Jacobs said this notice to hospitals does not mean he wishes to investigate all deaths.

The immediate provocation of the coroner's notice was the report of the death of Frank Murch, 26, of 6801 Wakefield avenue N. W., two days after he had died from poisoning and after the body had been embalmed.

"It is obvious a coronr cannot make a proper inquest after such delay," said Dr. Jacobs.

Eulogy for Maynard L. Murch

"From Sunset to Sunrise!"
Funeral Sermon, Maynard Murch

Here is a fact Maynard Murch knew and believed and one he would want us all to never forget. It is God's promise: "When you pass through the waters I will be with you; and through the rivers, they shall not overwhelm you, when you walk through fire you shall not be burned and the flame shall not consume you. For I am the Lord your God." Maynard Murch believed this totally. What then shall we say to this? What shall we say to life and its hardships as well as life's joys? I know Maynard knew and believed deep through his heart and into his soul, "If God is for us, who or what is against us?"

Maynard, as I knew him was a man of water; the waters of life. He was baptized into Christ and Christ was his Lord and stay, his refuge and strength through life's joys and sorrows. And Christ is now your Lord and stay through this time of your grief over Maynard's death. After 94 years and a marriage to Anne of 73 ½ years, Maynard has sailed across the waters of death's shadows and darkness and returned home to God and to his son Gerry, in the house not made with hands in the kingdom. Jean, Janis, Joyce, to you and your spouses, to you, Maynard's grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and to each of you gathered here this day, let me tell you a story.

I visited Maynard and Anne on different occasions at their home on Caldwell while they still lived there. Maynard and I sat in the front room. At times, Anne joined us and then was off to tasks in the kitchen or elsewhere. When I first arrived for a visit, be it a fine summer day with the sun in the sky, or a blustery, grey, windy winter day where I had the drifting snow creeping above my shoes, their home was always open and comfortable. In visits, I came to know Maynard and Anne's faith in God. Maynard always would ask, how are the fish biting – I usually had some pictures of the Rocky River's trout. He told me stories about him and Anne at Lake Erie, catching perch on the breakwall. He told me how he taught others, his children and grandchildren, to fish and the joys he gained from life on the water. He was a Navy man, you know. And, I saw in Maynard something deeper than a perch lifted from Erie and enjoyed on a plate for physical nourishment. Maynard and Anne lived a parable of life that we and God's world are better for. The parable is this – if you give a person a fish you feed him for a day. If you teach a person how to fish, you feed them for a lifetime. Maynard Murch's legacy and Anne's as well, was that they taught us to fish, giving us examples of generosity, compassion, strong willed opinions, and a generous benevolence of giving. One day, Maynard called the church office. He had been faithful of much in church. He served on boards and committees, and attended worship. He was a counter of offerings as well. He and Anne gave generously to the Memorial Fund in memory of their son Gerry, and the piano used today and often at concerts and services was fully restored, because of their wanting others to receive God's word and blessings through music in this place for many years to come. So, this one day a couple of years ago, when he and Anne couldn't come to church on their own due to failing health, Maynard calls and says, "Larry, (he always called me Larry) I want you to come over to the house. We need to talk." So I went and we talked. He talked very openly with me about this day – the day of his funeral. He had me write down what he wanted – He wanted two things: "Larry, I want people to know a hope of mine is that they give to the church, West Park and their own church. God has given to me and Anne and to our family and we need to honor that by giving also to God and others." The second thing was: "I want to be buried at Holy Cross Cemetery, and Larry, I want you to lead the service, and especially two songs to be sung, 'Just as I Am,' and 'Dear Lord and Father of Mankind, Forgive our Foolish Ways.' This was a navy hymn for me; we need it sung. And then, Maynard said, "Larry, that round stained glass window in the choir loft, the one with the colors and beauty, I want that window lit during my funeral service. When I come to church and have been there over the years, that window is what I focus on – the colors and light shining through it reminds me of the sun and God's brightness in life. It's beautiful."

As I said, Maynard was a Navy man. He served his country on a ship, on the sea and waters. Maynard went many days on the water from many sunsets to many sunrises. And in his perch fishing days on the Lake Erie breakwall, Maynard saw many times what you and I have seen – that round bright window of light, emblazoned around itself with such brightness and colors. Maynard saw the sunsets as the window to his God. The sun touched the horizon and darkness fell all around and a chill came to shore at day's end. But, time and time again, on Earth's horizon, after night's sorrow and sometimes chill and darkness, Maynard saw dawn breaking in the east, morning light breaking through to him once again. Maynard saw in the morning a new sunrise, a new heaven and a new earth.

Friends, Easter is a festival of the dawn. The early church father Clement of Alexandria has written: "Christ has turned our sunsets into sunrise. At sunset, one perhaps sees the darkness coming; light fades, and uncertainty appears. Minor chords, sounds of sorrow are heard as life retreats from the day. But, all our hope is founded in what lies ahead." - Sunrise, bursting through that stained glass window Maynard focused on – sunrise in the morning at sea, on Lake Erie's shore, in worship even this day, in this place of sanctuary, new hope, and new life. Picture this:

We are standing at the seashore. The ship at our side spreads his white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. He is an object of beauty and strength; and as full of sail and sound of spar as he ever was, able to bear a living cargo to its destination.

We stand and watch, 'til at length, he hangs like a speck of silver just where sea meets sky. Someone at my side says, "There. He's gone."

But gone where? From our sight, that's all. His dwindling size is in us – not him.

And just as someone among us says, "There he goes,"

Welcoming voices on the other side say, "Here he comes." - Anonymous

MURCH GENEALOGY (4/99)

The Murch surname is of British and/or Irish origin. It is believed that Maynard Murch is the twelfth generation since his ancestor Miles Standish. As you may recall, Miles Standish was one of the original 102 Pilgrims that sailed from Plymouth, England on the Mayflower on September 16, 1620 and arrived at what is now Provincetown, Massachusetts, on November 21 to found the Plymouth Colony. Miles Standish was born in Lancashire, England in about 1584 and died in 1656 in Duxburry, Massachusetts. Miles Standish was the subject of the fictional poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow entitled The Courtship of Miles Standish in 1858, in which Standish, reluctant to ask Priscilla Mullens for her hand, sends John Alden to act as intermediary.

Little is known about Murch genealogy since the death of Miles Standish and the birth of William Murch. William Murch was born sometime in the mid to late 1800's and married Anna Hahn who was believed to be born in 1877 and died December 27, 1948 or 1949. William worked in the shipyards in Cleveland. Little else is known about William and Anna except that they had two sons. The first son was named Frank Stuart Murch born in 1893 in Cleveland, Ohio and other son, Earl William Murch, was born in 1895 also in Cleveland, Ohio.

Frank Murch married Elizabeth Mary Winchester in 1915. Frank worked in Cleveland as a machinist (Shop Collector). Frank died a young man in 1919 in Cleveland of an accidental poisoning. Elizabeth was born in Cleveland on February 9, 1898 and died in Cleveland of heart failure on November 19,1958. Elizabeth was primarily a homemaker. Two and a half years prior to Frank's premature death, he and Elizabeth had a child named Maynard Leroy Murch in Cleveland on March 26,1916.

Not much is known about Elizabeth Mary Winchester's family. Her father, Fred Winchester was a policeman and died sometime before 1916. Elizabeth's mother was Cora Belle Snow. She was a homemaker born in Cleveland and died in August 2, 1936 in Cleveland of cancer. Fred and Cora had three children (Elizabeth Mary, Samuel – a railroad conductor, and Earl). Cora had two other children with her first husband (Mrs. Blanche Jowett – Head of Detectives for Bailey's and Mrs. Lula Sculley; Maiden Name was Shields). The Winchester surname is also of British and/or Irish origin.

Maynard's stepfather Erik Gustav Lovegren, Elizabeth's second husband, raised him. Erik was Swedish and a carpenter by trade but was employed as a firefighter. Erik and Elizabeth had a child named Gladys Belle Lovegren born in Cleveland on October 18, 1924. Gladys married Paul Evans and had two children named Dean Eric and Nelson. She died in Cleveland on December 6, 1988 of cancer.

Maynard still remembers how he and a friend were walking by a candy store one day and how he remarked after first seeing Anne that he was going to make her his wife. He kept his word, Maynard and Anne Franz were married in Cleveland, Ohio on October 10, 1936. Maynard served his country well in the Navy in both World War II and the Korean War. Maynard and Anne bought their first house, a colonial on 120th Street in Cleveland's Westside, in 1948 for $11,000 with Savings Bonds and help from the GI Bill. Anne was a Foster Mom from 1956 through 1971 and then a clerk at the now closed Halle's Department store in downtown Cleveland from 1971 until 1979 (Does anyone remember Mr. Jingaling on Halle's seventh floor?). Anne, who is a devout Roman Catholic, was an active member of the "Little Flower" foreign missionary support group from 1957 until the group relocated to Michigan several years ago. Maynard began working for The Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company (the Cleveland electric company) in 1953. Maynard and Anne had the four children discussed below. The children are of British, German, Scotch, and Irish origin.

MEMORIES OF ANNE MURCH

Anne was a very kind woman who loved people, especially children. She had 4 of her own!

Anne was VERY proud of the fact that she was a Foster Mother for 15 years and took care of over 70 babies!

Many times Anne took not only her own children to the Cleveland Zoo on the bus, but she would take many neighborhood children also even when she was pregnant herself!

If a neighbor died, Anne would be the person who volunteered to go through the neighborhood collecting monies for the family and arranging for neighbors to help in having an after-service food at the family's home.

Anne was always growing peonies and giving bunches of peonies away to the sick, invalid, etc.

"Grandma" Anne would take her grandchildren that she was babysitting to Mass at St. Mel's Church – and up to the choir loft while singing in the choir.

May Jesus have mercy on the Soul of

Maynard Gerald Murch

Died November 18, 1957

O GENTLEST Heart of Jesus, ever consumed with burning love for the poor captive souls in Purgatory, have mercy on the soul of Thy departed servant. Be not severe in Thy judgment but let some drops of Thy Precious Blood fall upon the devouring flames, and do Thou, O merciful Saviour, send Thy angels to conduct Thy departed servant to a place of refreshment, light and peace. Amen.

May the souls of all the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

Safety-Foreman Guild Newsletter (West Tech High School, Cleveland, Ohio)

SAFETY-FOREMAN GUILD

December, 1957, News

I. INITIATION:

Willain Seitz, Sgt. of Arms, is preparing a warm reception for our neophites on Friday evening December 20th. It will be an event that will be long remembered. Every member should makd a special effort to attend.

II. SERVICE CUP:

Bob Cawthra, 12B, will be awarded the distinction of having his name engraved on the gold cup. This is the highest award that can be earned. It represents over 300 stamps in the service for West Tech. In addition to the cup award Bob will also receive an Honor Key at the Honor Award assembly next Spring--Phil Ward 12B will receive the same awards when he becomes a 12A.

III. SERVICE STAMPS:

Our neophites have been exceptionally active, this semester, in volunteering their service in the interest of safety. Already many of the cadets have earned over ten stamps-

There are plenty of opportunities to earn points. Just consult your bulletin board in room 133 or contact your president Phil Ward--DO IT NOW!

IV. RECRUITS:

This is a good time to contact your friends and invite them to sign up for foremanship next semester. If they have no grade under "C" they may write in "frm" room 131, the first period on their forecast envelopes. Others may sign up for the tenth period.

V. IN MEMORIUM:

The Guild lost one of its most loyal foreman in the person of Foreman Gerald Murch. He was so enthusiastic about the guild and its work that his family intered him in his white sweater and foreman emblem. We trust that all members will live so worthily that your family too will respect the Safety Foremen Guild and principles for which it stands. If you do this, Gerald Murch will not have died in vain.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to his family. He was a great FOREMAN.

VI. GRADES:

Your main job in school is your studies. The Guild stands for a high degree of scholarship which means a 2.7 average.

If the guild and its service to West Tech means anything to you; then you will make every effort to attain that average and maintain it.

Your safety counselor is ready, at all times, to advise and help you do your best. Come to room 131 before or after school if you have any problem that keeps you from doing your very best.

"Never be satisfied with less than the best."

VII. ACHIEMENT PROGRAM:

The neoplites have just completed a number of footstools and shack tables. They would make a nice inexpensive Christmas present. Come in and look them over. Come in and look them over.
